J. R. Banks and family were down from their ranch near Laughlin the latter part of last week. Mr. Banks brought some of his fine Gravenstein apples, leaving a box at this office for the regalement of the printers. Sebastopol has considerable of a name as a center for the Gravensteins but we have never seen or tasted anything from Sebastopol that would begin to compare with those raised by John Riley.

DR. G. A. WOELFFEL DIES FROM OPERATION

Dr. G. A. Woelffel died in San Francisco August 21st. Ten days previous he went to Santa Rosa with a party of Willits candidates who were to be initiated in the B. P. O. E. and was taken ill on the trip.. The following day he went on to the city and entered a hospital for special treatment and an operation was performed. For the past year he has been in poor health and for some time he had thought that his days were numbered.

George Augustus Woelffel was born in Sacramento June 27, 1868, and was raised in San Francisco where he received his common school education. He received his medical education at the Keokuk University, Iowa, from which he graduated in 1897. Shortly after graduation he came to Mendocino county and was surgeon for the Albion Lumber Co. In 1900 he moved to Willits where he has been a practicing physician ever since. For the past 12 years he has also been the surgeon for the Northwestern Redwood Co.

FELIZ CREEK BRIDGE BURNED LAST FRIDAY

The county bridge across Feliz creek just south of Hopland was partially consumed by fire last Friday. The fire was discovered after it had made considerable progress and nearly half the structure was consumed before it was put out. The main span and the south approach remain intact, but Supervisor Rawles will replace it with a new concrete structure, as one would have to be built in a few years, owing to the requirements of the state highway commission.

How the fire started is a mystery. Some lay the blame to a spark from the threshing machine, which, it is reported, crossed a short time previously, and some believe a match, a cigar or a cigarette stub tossed carelessly from a passing auto ignited the grass and the blaze spread to the bridge.

HOP CONTRACTS FILED; MARKET IS STAGNANT

Three hop contracts were filed in the Hall of Records this week, between local growers and T. Rosenwald & Co. Blalack & Son on August 8 contracted 50,000 pounds at 25c and 100,000 pounds at 15c. Mrs. A. Gambrel on July 14 contracted 100 bales at 11c.

There was no activity in the market this week, the highest offer having been 32½c which Ben Hall paid for five lots aggregating 550 bales as announced in last week's Dispatch. No offers have been made by buyers since.

It is stated reliably that almost everything in this section has now been cleaned up. There is estimated to be about 2000 bales remaining which have not been boug't of this year's crop.

WILLITS BRANCH OF RED CROSS SENDS IN WORK

The work of the military relief committee of the Red Cross has gone steadily on the past week.

A consignment of patients' clothing and hospital supplies was received the first of the week from the Willits auxilliary. This consisted of 72 splint pad pillows, 24 nightingales, 48 hot water bag covers, and 60 knitted and 8 crash wash cloths—a splendid lot of work. This with another box made by local circles, will be forwarded to headquarters in a few days.

Interest in knitting has been growing and now over twenty-five ladies are at work on different garments and others are only waiting for another supply of yarn to arrive, the first two orders having been promptly exhausted. Sweaters are the most needed garments and two have already come in, the work of Mrs. McCracken and Mrs. Wurtenberg. The classes in knitting continue and it is expected that the yarn will be here before the class meets on Friday.

The need is so urgent it is hoped every one who can give a little time will assist in this work.

The question of funds promises to become a vital one in the near future and plans are being discussed for a public market and street fair to be held the latter part of September. Should this be undertaken, every individual and organization in the community is counted upon to help make it a complete success. Any suggestions in regard to it or offers of assistance will be appreciated at headquarters.

In the meantime memberships and donations will be received at the library, Clay street entrance.

Will those who have signed applications especially, please take notice.

Mrs. Gambrel will erect a one-story brick on her property and Pat Connolly's lot just south of that will be covered by the new postoffice building. The Meyer building is almost ready for occupancy again.

DICK SHATTUCK PLACED ON 30 DAYS' PROBATION

The hearing of the case of Dick Shattuck, who was placed under arrest on four complaints by a representative of the state dairy department last week, came up in Judge Hurley's court last Wednesday evening. Shattuck acted as his own attorney. Two of the complaints against him were dismissed and he was found guilty on the other two, offering practically no defense. He was fined $100, but was placed on probation for thirty days. If, at the end of that time he has not remedied the conditions complained of, the fine will be imposed.

POSTOFFICE CONTRACT GOES TO CONNOLLY SITE

The bid of Patrick Connolly for the postoffice has been accepted by the postoffice department, and work will begin at once on the building. The structure will be a one-story brick. The site is on South State street several doors south of the location occupied previously to the fire.

Mr. Spitzer has resided in Calpella about six years and has won enviable fame for his careful attention to business. His many patrons are sorry to see him leave, but hope that his health will be benefitted by the change. His health has been failing for several months and he decided the only way to regain it was to take a complete rest.

He plans to leave in a few days for Santa Cruz, where he will rest several months and then go to New York.

Mr. Barr merely bought the property on speculation. He expects to have a buyer soon, and if he does not sell, may dispose of the stock.

The rate is about the same as that of last year, it is understood, as now set. Last year's rate was $2.35. If approved by the state board it will be established by the local board at its next meeting.

FOREST FIRES RAGE IN WILLITS SECTION

Willits, Aug. 23.—For several weeks fires have been burning on the Outlet and near Sherwood. The Sherwood fire burned over an area of about six square miles of cutover land and was really a benefit as it has destroyed the refuse. Sam Peterson lost about 15 cords of wood in the fire and that is the only real loss we have learned of.

The Outlet fire has already destroyed about 100 cords of wood belonging to W. A. Sheffield and is now threatening a much larger quantity near Maple Spur. Wednesday the fire was burning on the ridge back of the DeCamp ranch, two miles north of Willits, and it made our atmosphere very hot and smoky.

Fort Bragg, Aug. 21.—Emil Smith, employed as a donkey boss in the Howard Creek woods, was killed Monday night in an auto accident when the machine in which he was riding plunged over the south Chadbourn Gulch grade, a distance of 150 feet.

Emil Dahl and William Kleakars were also passengers of the service machine driven by Tom Thompson. All of the latter three escaped without injury.

The party was on their way north to Howard Creek, and the machine became uncontrollable, leaving the road at the first turn on the downward pitch of the south Chadbourn grade.

Thompson and Smith, who were riding in the front seat, went clear to the bottom of the gulch with the car, a distance of 150 feet. Smith's head was badly crushed but Thompson escaped without a scratch.

Dahl and Kleakars were thrown out in the decent of the car and saved themselves by clinging to the shrubbery of the almost perpendicular bluff.

Fashion's Changes.

One can say as a certainty that in the twentieth century no one will be able to boast that he has created anything absolutely new in fashions. The crinolines of the Empress Eugenie were a reminiscence of the panniers of Marie Antoinette, and long before her time, in the orient, women had conceived the idea of enlarging their skirts by means of hoops. A few years ago women of fashion affected high waists and sheath dresses, but before them Mme. Recamier had done the same thing, and the dresses of Mme. Recamier were suggested by the Greeks and the Romans. In short, like everything else, fashion is a part of the same everlasting come and go. We do not advance as we are so prone to imagine; we repeat our steps.

Wide Awake Eskimos.

The Eskimos are rapidly learning the value of money. The day has long gone by when they would give a polar bearskin or a bale of foxskins for a fishhook. They now know the value of their furs and bring them to the best markets.—Argonaut.

A String to Them.

Mrs. Flatbush—What became of that string of pearls your husband was going to give you? Mrs. Bensonhurst—Oh, he had hold of the string.

THESE TWO THISTLES SERIOUS WEED PESTS

Yellow star thistle is one of the most serious weed pests that can be established in any community, and at the present time it is found covering several fields in Ukiah valley. This annual appears during late summer, usually after the hay has been taken off the fields and can readily be distinguished at this time of year by its bright yellow blossoms and long spines. When allowed to continue seeding for a few seasons it will completely cover a stubble field and take away whatever value it might have had for pasture purposes. It is an extreme detriment to hay when cut with it and practically worthless as a soil fertilizer when turned under.

Russian thistle, though having come to our county several years ago, is established in a very limited territory, due to the vigilance of the farmers in controlling it. This annual plant, sometimes called "tumble weed", is one exceedingly noxious in character and is sufficiently dangerous to have commanded state legislation for its control. It has one main root. The aerial stems are very numerous and wiry, having many short spines which become hard when dry. The top attains an expanse of from one to three feet in diameter and is nearly round in conformation.

While these two thistles only cover a very small area in Ukiah and Sanel valleys at this time, unless carefully fought they will become a serious menace to field crops. Although the area covered is small, the excuse is quite in proportion for allowing these noxious weeds to continue each succeeding year.

Preventing their seeding by cultivation is probably the simplest way to control them in the fields, while along fences and highways they will require careful hand work to remove them. Everyone should appraise themselves of the characteristics of these two weeds and feel a responsibility in keeping their own lands clear.

A HISTORIC CHURCH.

Linked For a Century With Official Life In Washington.

In historic St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, just across Lafayette square from the White House, more presidents and men prominent in Washington official life have worshiped than in any other church in the national capital. St. John's, now a century old, was the first building to be erected on Lafayette square after the White House, which was completed in 1800. The presidents of the United States who worshiped here were John Quincy Adams, Madison, Monroe, Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Fillmore and Arthur and in more recent times the White House was represented by Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Taft, who made St. John's church their church home.

Other prominent people were regularly seen in the congregation, including Stephen Decatur, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun, Chief Justice Fuller, Salmon P. Chase, Benjamin F. Butler, Lewis Cass, George Bancroft, Winfield Scott and George Dewey. Its rectors officiated at nearly all of the early White House weddings, many notable ones having taken place within its sacred walls.

The denominations have been pretty well represented in the presidency. Grant attended the Metropolitan Methodist church, McKinley the Foundry Methodist church; Benjamin Harrison and Cleveland attended the Presbyterian church; Wilson is a Presbyterian and, like Cleveland, the son of a Presbyterian minister; Garfield was a member of the Disciples church, and Roosevelt attended the Dutch Reformed church.—Christian Herald.

RESOLUTION

Calpella, Calif., Aug. 21, 1917

Board of Supervisors,
Ukiah, California.

Gentlemen: It has come to our notice that by one feature of the recently enacted Hoover food control bills, approximately $104,000.00 was given to California State Council of Defense to bring about the increased production of food in California, and because of the greatly increased crop production of the counties that have farm advisers, the Council has decided to use a part of this money to pay for farm advisers, and the agricultural department of the state university is taking it up with the supervisors of counties that have no advisers, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Redwood Valley Grange heartily endorse this move and respectfully petition the Hon. Board of Supervisors to use every endeavor to secure a farm adviser for Mendocino county, thus putting us on the same basis as the leading and best food producing counties of the state.

Respectfully yours,
REDWOOD VALLEY GRANGE,
Lucy Searing, Secy.

Oscar and Ed Sanford and the latter's family were Santa Rosa visitors last Sunday.

NEWS OF WEEK AT GUALALA

Gualala, Aug. 20—Sunday, the 19th, was the first day of sunshine since my last writing. Fog has been disagreeably dense most of the time, and quite chilly, making it very comfortable to sit by a fire. No doubt this will seem strange to those back in the valleys, where they are hunting the coolest places to be comfortable.

Miss Eloise Wallach came over from Boonville via Greenwood by stage the 9th, staying over night in Greenwood and going down to Point Arena expecting to stay all night in that town also, but was fortunate in getting a ride down to Bourns Landing with our telephone man, W. Chalmers, the same day. Think of the short distance to Boonville and having to spend two nights on the way to Gualala. When if the stage would arrange a different schedule so as to make connections, it could all be done in half the time, and be so much more convenient to the public.

Miss Wallach opened school Monday promptly, and was very glad to be at her duties again. She has several new pupils to drill in the rudiments of school work.

H. W. Lampkin and party, of Redwood City, broke up camp on Gualala river the 13th and started on their homeward way. The ten days they were camping they secured three nice bucks. They used the horns for decorations on their car, and to substantiate their hunting stories. They were quite charmed with Gualala river as a camping place, and were able to keep their table supplied with trout which are so plentiful in these streams.

Harry Wilson and party left on the 11th for their homes in San Francisco, after spending more than a week with Mr. and Mrs. Smith at Loma Vista.

Rev. M. McElhenny enjoyed his stay in our section immensely and took in the abalone hunts and fishing along the rough shore like a school boy on his first vacation.

Sidney White, of Sebastopol, came up to Bourns Landing the 11th to spend a week at La Loma Orchard. He was quite charmed with our sea shore and spent much of his time on the beach. He left for his home Sunday afternoon.

Arthur Johnson has received his car and is much pleased with it. Very soon Arthur will be making good time on the roads like the other boys.

Mrs. Atley Bowles visited Point Arena Thursday of last week, going up in an auto.

Joe Briones made a hasty trip to Point Arena to visit the dentist and have a tooth extracted that has been troubling him for some time.

Steamer Newberg came in to Bourns Landing the 18th, bringing about forty tons of freight for the company, and taking on several cars of junk, and will finish with ties, taking fully three days to load up. One of the sailors on board fell a distance of about thirty feet striking his head on the deck. He regained consciousness partially, but was not able to leave his cabin, and was very ill over the fall, his head being badly swollen and his back bruised. The captain called by phone to Gualala for a doctor who was camping on the river. He came to the Landing, but was not enough of a sailor to go on board the boat, so the poor man was left without aid until he reached San Francisco.

Andrew Benson came down coast from Point Arena to visit his mother Saturday last.

Several from Sebastopol have been camping on Gualala river the last two weeks. Mr. Hess, a lumberman of that town, Mr. Christian, of the lumber company in San Francisco, a son of Captain Clinker, who used to run regularly to Bourns Landing, were among the party. The latter holds a position in a lumber yard at Sebastopol. This is his first visit to Bourns Landing since he was a boy. How time flies and the changes along our coast are very great in the last few years, as this young man observed.

Arthur Johnson, of Bourns Landing, has taken a contract to haul ties for the company and will soon begin work on south fork.

Harvey Keane has returned lately from a visit to his brother in Comptche, where he has been for several weeks.

Mr. White, E. B. Lampkin and sister, Lois, made a call on Mr. Brandt's family Friday of last week, running up in a few minutes in Mr. White's car.

Rev. D. Monroe passed up our coast from Anapolis one day last week.

A full line of staple and fancy groceries, chinaware and dishes at Dimmick's. tf

WHAT IS DOING IN POINT ARENA

Point Arena, Aug. 19—Dr. and Mrs. Robert Gardner and young son met with a bad accident Tuesday. The brakes on their car refused to hold on the Sea View grade. As the car gained in speed going down the grade Mrs. Gardener jumped out and was badly injured by the fall. The auto finally turned turtle, the little boy being caught under it, but was not seriously hurt. Dr. Gardener's arm was badly cut. Dr. Gardener's family resides in Los Angeles and they were on their way to Fort Bragg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haskell have returned from Sebastopol, where they have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Frank Liftchild. We gladly welcome them back.

Rubion Batt at Del Mar was thrown from his horse on Tuesday and had his leg broken.

Miss Deedie Kehoe is seriously ill with some strange fever the doctors are unable to identify. Her mother and sister, Etta, are with her. All are staying at Mrs. J. Jakeway's.

Mrs. Donald Ross's cheery voice is heard in town again. Mr. Ross is up on a hunting trip.

Mrs. Kunzler has returned from San Francisco, where she attended the wedding of her daughter, Ruth.

The ladies of Point Arena are making every spare minute count as they knit for the Red Cross comfortable articles for our boys and all soldier boys to wear.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Crispen, of Mountain View, were in town this week.

Mrs. Dusick presented her husband with a bouncing boy on Saturday.

Miss Hazel Samuels, who taught at Schooner Gulch and also here for three years, and one of our best loved and most popular teachers, has gone into training for a Red Cross nurse.

Marion Philbert and family will soon move to Del Mar, where he will work at the Del Mar ranch.

Miss Maud Hiet, of the state agricultural department at Sacramento, is here visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Halliday.

Harry Nisson, formerly of Point Arena, is in the naval reserve at San Pedro.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake Harris, who lived here many years, had twin boys and lately one was drafted. The other twin enlisted for war at once.

Percy Logue has enlisted. And so our boys go, one after another. May our Father bless, guard and guide them all.

WESTPORT NEWS

Westport, Aug. 20—Mrs. Geo. Stevenson and daughter, Hazel, returned home Sunday evening, after spending a week in San Francisco visiting friends and attending to business.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haas and Mrs. Jack Fee autoed to Fort Bragg Saturday and brought Miss Avis Cureton up to spend Sunday visiting friends. It seems good to see Miss Cureton again. She is now teaching in the Fort Bragg school.

Ernest Bray had the misfortune of hurting his arm very badly last week. It will lay him up for quite a while. Joe Gulf is driving team in his place.

The new railroad up Wages creek is progressing very rapidly. They have several four-horse teams at work and will have more this week.

Geo. Fee attended to business in Fort Bragg Monday.

Alma Standley and Madge Devilbiss took in the dance at Howard Creek Saturday evening.

Mr. Chapman and family motored up from Fort Bragg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Snider and two grandchildren have moved back here. They have been living at Mendocino for the past few months. Mrs. Snider had very poor health while away, but we are glad she is improving now.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeValley and Charley Stevenson and wife autoed up from Fort Bragg Saturday evening in Fred's new car.

Mrs. Anna Cranz has gone to San Francisco to purchase her fall and winter stock of millinery and will return September 1st. Her store is in charge of Mrs. F. E. Dowson, who recently moved her stock of fancy goods there. This joining of forces has proven popular to the fair sex and a recent consignment of stamped goods from the East went like the proverbial hot cakes.

STATE COUNCIL BELIEVES SPUDS WILL BE HIGH

Mendocino county potato growers who have been prone to woryy somewhat over the reports of an over production of this crop and the consequent predictions of a low price for the tubers, will take heart from the statement issued by the state council of defense. According to the council, there will be a big demand for potatoes and the price will be good. Those who are able to do so, therefore, should hold out for a profitable price. The council predicts that because of the immense food demands being made upon the United States by our troops and our allies abroad, the price of potatoes this winter probably will reach a high level, and has inaugurated a state-wide campaign through each County Council of Defense in California and through every other patriotic organization of the State, urging every farmer and every home gardener to immediately set about the planting of winter potatoes and to plant them in largely increased acreages and amounts.

According to the State Council every potato that can be raised in California this winter will be in big demand. The increased crop which the State Council is urging, it says, must tide over the population of the entire State and probably the people of several other nearby states until the middle of next summer, the time when the first of the early potatoes planted next spring will begin to mature.

As a part of the state-wide campaign which is intended to induce every householder to plant a potato garden and every farmer to double his usual potato acreage, the State Council of Defense is sending bulletins to every County Council of Defense, to every women's club and to all of the scores of other patriotic organizations which are allied with the State Defense body in the fight to bring about thorough war preparedness throughout California.

The bulletin sent out by the State Council of Defense says in part:

"The nation at large and particular the people of California, will need every potato that can be raised in this State during the coming winter. High prices are bound to prevail. This is proven in advance by the big prices which have prevailed for spring and summer crops of all kinds, despite the immensely increased production all over the United States.

"Every householder who last spring planted a small plot of potatoes should double or treble his output for winter consumption, if possible. In localities where water rates are high, the householder undoubtedly will find that despite this cost, his potatoes will prove a profitable venture. Farmers should also largely increase their potato acreage, as the winter potatoes which should be planted now, unlike the early crop of potatoes now on the market, have good keeping qualities and can be stored away for many months.

"July and early August is the proper time to plant winter potatoes. This crop will not mature until late in November or early in December and it must supply the public demand until the middle of next summer. Some idea of the immense amount of potatoes which will be needed can be gleaned from the fact that winter consumption of potatoes is about five times greater than during the summer months."

According to the State Council of Defense, Burbank potatoes are preferable for a winter planting because of their greater size on maturity. Great care should be exercised in the selection of planting stock in order to avoid diseased plants. Before cutting up into sets, seed potatoes should be placed in the sun for a couple of days in order to revise them and develop them to the sprouting stage.

In order that every potato grower and home gardener may mave expert knowledge of potato planting, the State Council of Defense is now arranging with the College of Agriculture of the University of California to prepare a special advisory bulletin on potato planting. This bulletin can be secured by any person who writes to the University for it.

Through the organization of growers in each county of the State, and through the pledged co-operation of the State Marketing Commission, the State Council of Defense also is able to give to large growers of potatoes reasonable assurance that they will be able to find ready market at fair prices for their tubers. Through the efforts of the State Council, and following a short-lived period this summer when farmers were unable to sell their potatoes at a fair price, despite the fact that consumers were paying fancy prices for them, growers in practically every county of the State have been successfully organized for the purpose of marketing their own products without the necessity of their passing through excess middlemen.

In accordance with the plans of the State Council of Defense for maximum food production during the coming winter months, there is also being prepared at the present time by Dean Hunt of the College of Agriculture of the University of California, a special pamphlet dealing with the raising of winter vegetables by home gardeners. The proper time for starting winter gardens, according to University Agriculture experts, is in November, and this special pamphlet will be placed in the hands of householders throughout the State about September 1st, in ample time to permit the necessary preparation of the soil.

The Northwestern Redwood Company's planing mill has been working over time for the past week getting out seven carloads of lumber for the government.

The Willits grammar school opened Monday but the attendance is sixty short on account of hoppicking. There were 44 little beginners, the second largest class in the history of the school.

ELECTRIC HEATING.

The Way Sweden Used Nature to Solve the Fuel Problem.

Stockholm, up on the Baltic side of Sweden, is a cold proposition for many months. Not only its far north latitude, but its insular situation conduces to cold climatic conditions, for Stockholm is built mostly on islands and is called the Venice of the Baltic.

But the people keep warm during the long winters and do so through electrical heating arrangements. Fuel for individual families was an immense item, but in the last few years the electricians of the country have bent their energies to the development of the natural water power to the end that electricity has become the chief fuel.

Hot water tanks in buildings are heated by electricity from a nearby power plant, and the hot water is sent through the houses much as it goes through similarly heated houses in our cities. The electricity that heats the water is turned on at night when the family retires, and by morning the tank is so hot that the water, pumped automatically through the house pipes, gives the inhabitants all the comforts of steam heat and lasts the whole day.

We build coal fires in our furnaces and have smoke and ashes to contend with. The Swedes press a button that connects the house tank wire with the power plant, and the work is done, with no aftermath of cleaning up.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

UKIAH, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1917

THE SOLDIER'S CHANCES

There is a widespread impression that fatalities in present-day warfare are incomparably greater than in former wars. This belief, cleverly spread by pacifists and pro-Germans, is responsible for a large part of the exemption claims put forward. Worse still, it has caused a vast amount of suffering to the relatives of soldiers destined for the front. Fathers and mothers, wives, brothers and sisters, as they watch their beloved ones march away, smile bravely, but feel their hearts torn by the conviction that they will never return.

It is a false belief. The plain truth is that never was there a big war in which a soldier's chances of returning home, sound and whole, was better than it is today.

This statement may be verified by anyone who will take the trouble to look into the reports of the French and British army. It is amply substantiated by figures given in the recent announcement made by Andre Tardieu, high commissioner of the French Republic, now in Washington.

Mr. Tardieu, by way of explaining how it is possible for France to have more fighting men in the field today, after three years of warfare, than ever before, showed that her rate of loss has steadily decreased from the beginning. Her "definite casualties," meaning the men killed, missing or taken prisoner, amounted to 5.41 per cent of her fighting forces in the big battles of 1915. For the first six months of 1915 the casualties were 2.39 per cent. Then in succeeding half years they fell to 1.68 per cent, 1.47 per cent, and in the last six months of 1916, to 1.28 per cent.

Only a little more than one man out of a hundred killed, missing or captured in six months of fighting on that perilous western front! And from another source comes the statement that in the first half of the present year the French lost in "killed and wounded" only 1½ per cent of their fighting force.

The early fighting was perilous enough, but the fatalities have continually shrunk, thanks to the growing superiority of our allies in artillery and their improvement in tactics. Brains and machinery are now doing nearly all the fighting. The men are spared. It is easily demonstrable, on the basis of these figures and other statistics, that it is safer to fight on the French or Belgian front today than it was to fight in our Civil War or in the Franco-Prussian or the Napoleonic wars.

* * * * * *

Of all the deeds of cold-blooded atrocity of which Germany has been guilty, is there one that surpasses in calculated fiendishness the deliberate drowning of the crew of the steamship Belgian Prince? What happened after the ship had been torpedoed and the crew of forty-four men had taken to the lifeboats is briefly related in the official report of the State Department: "The officers of the submarine asked whether there were any gunners left on board and ordered the crew of the Belgian Prince on the submarine. The men of the submarine searched them for weapons, threw away the oars of the lifeboats and ordered the crew to remove their life preservers. The submarine proceeded for fourteen miles and then submerged, drowning the crew except William Snell, colored, of Jacksonville, Fla., the chief engineer and a Russian." No more wanton crime ever stained the annals of piracy; yet from day to day the President is solemnly exhorted to announce his peace terms to a Government that wages war in this fashion upon unarmed men who are helpless and in its power. Societies are organized to protest against the infliction of any penalties whatever upon such a government. Workingmen are urged to use their influence to bring about an immediate peace, whatever the conditions may be. Honest Americans, Frenchmen, Englishmen and Russians are asked to sit in council with the representatives of the German government and bargain for terms. Pacifists whose hatred of war has atrophied all their moral sense are pleading everywhere that a murderous and red-handed autocracy be allowed to go scot free provided it will consent to suspend for the time being its assault upon civilization.—New York World.

* * * * * *

Remember that if Germany wins this war the United States will pay the bills, both for herself and for her allies. Therefore it is up to us to get in and "yellowhammer," as the old teamsters say. If we don't win we will have to pay tribute to the German empire for the next century and will be reduced to the status of a German dependency. Every privilege and advantage which we now enjoy will be taken from us and we shall be no better than slaves. Look what Germany did to Belgium, if you need an incentive to your patriotism. If Germany wins we will be no better off than the Belgians.

* * * * * *

Germany's feelers put out from time to time through various agencies, the pope being the latest, to discover the attitude of the allies toward peace, indicate that there has been a considerable slowing down in the German eagerness to subjugate the world. Germany evidently has had enough this time, but any compromise with her now would result only in postponement of the scheme until a more propitious season. Eventually militarism must be annihilated, and there is no time like the present, when we have it on the run. Let's finish now that we have begun.

* * * * * *

Mothers, sisters, sweethearts and wives have it in their power to make or break the morale of the draft army. Let your soldier see that you are proud of him. Send him away with a cheerful farewell. The Americans have never been whipped in any war they have undertaken thus far, and the splendid courage which has made them invincible is in a large measure due to the spirit of our American women. As long as this spirit flourishes, we shall continue to remain unconquerable. When our women become cowards, our men will become cowards.

* * * * * *

Hearst gets pretty close to treason sometimes in his attempts to arouse pro-German sentiment.

Germany still has confidence that her army will be able to save her from invasion. Her method of procedure now seems to have settled into maintaining an iron ring about what she has won and sitting tight until the allies have worn themselves out attacking. But until her lines are broken and she suffers defeat—decisive, far-reaching and overwhelming—there can be no end to the war. Her people have faith still in her military supremacy and until this faith is broken the principle of militarism will remain all-powerful in the German empire.

* * * * * *

Any peace movement now is a plea to make peace with pirates and give the pirates a new certificate of character. The German government today is the same which invaded Belgium three years ago, "by military necessity," the kaiser said, massacred non-combatants, old and young, indiscriminately, dishonored women and sent the people into slavery in the interior of Germany. Whoever talks peace until this monster begot by autocracy is crushed and ground into the earth is a traitor and deserves to be treated as such.

* * * * * *

Don't baby the draft boys. They don't need cuddling. Give them a slap on the back and grip of the hand and a hearty godspeed. Put pep into them. Make them proud of the privilege of fighting for the country. This is no time to condole with them and treat the fact that they are drafted as a misfortune.

* * * * * *

Hearst now is calling for a referendum to see whether or not the people of the United States really want to fight. In the light of what we have done in the past four months it ought to be plain enough to anybody but an ass what the sentiment in this country is as regards the war.

* * * * * *

Soldiers of the draft and of the regular army as well, when you are on the other side, remember the Lusitania.

SONOMA CRIMINALS ARRESTED AT WENDLING

Henry Given, Arthur Chinoni and Arthur Haden were arrested near Wendling last Wednesday evening by Deputy Sheriff Varner and Constable J. Mason, of Healdsburg.

The three robbed an aged resident of Healdsburg, Jeff Wyatt, of $12.50 and then stole three bicycles from the plaza and made their escape.

Just above Skaggs they discarded the wheels and threw them into a gulch and continued the way on foot.

The officers discovered the bicycles and then followed the men on their way to this county. On the third day of the hunt they located the quarry in a cabin near a lumber camp and placed them under arrest.

One of the prisoners is alleged to have stolen some wire in Healdsburg and then jumped his bond.

BAD HABITS OF POSTURE.

They Lead to Deformity and Chronic Disease if Not Corrected.

The significance of the postures habitually assumed by individuals is the subject of serious consideration by physicians at present. Exhaustive investigations seem to indicate pretty conclusively that bad postures, such as stooping shoulders, contracted chests or protruded abdomens, are not merely the result of careless habits in the individual, but are due to some slight physical deformity which should be corrected. Generally speaking, persons who have bad posture habits are not very robust.

Every one has observed that persons who are fatigued drop into bad postures temporarily, and there are many examples of unusually robust persons with whom bad posture is chronic. Nevertheless, tendency to bad posture undoubtedly adds to the trend toward weakness and chronic disease, particularly in individuals who are not naturally rugged.

The robust child or the adult who takes an adequate amount of recreation from work does not usually fall into bad habits in sitting or standing; in fact, he is able to combat the condition of study and work which make for bad posture. The less robust child and the overworked or too sedentary adult, on the other hand, are obliged to make persistent efforts to avoid bad posture habits. And, although these habits may have no very detrimental effect upon the general health during childhood, they are likely to result in chronic diseases later in life as a result of the anatomical deformities produced.—Exchange.
